Morning Fire Takes Gilead Landmark

The Wight farm buildings on the north side of the river in Gilead were entirely destroyed by an early morning fire Monday. The buildings were unoccupied and the only contents of the 136x36 foot barn were a few tons of baled hay. The cause of the fire which started in the barn is not known. The blaze was discovered about 3:15 a. m. by Mrs. Fred A. Wight, whose home is only some 35 feet from the house which was burning. The Bethel fire department made a quick run to the scene through dense fog most of the way. The fire was beyond control and water was used from the tank truck. There was slight damage to Mrs. Wight's home.

The buildings were the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dana Wight where they carried on the farm, and later with their son, Fred, who succeeded them. After the death of the latter nine years ago, the farm of over 800 acres was bought by Philip Chadbourne of Bethel who has logged part of the woodland and more recently has placed some 70 acres of the intervale in Soil Bank.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

For a great many years the registration of voters has been handled by the Board of Selectmen, who by virtue of their office have been the Board of Registration. The last session of the Legislature revised and rewrote the entire election law. The Selectmen are no longer the Board of Registration, the registering of voters in the future to be handled by a Registrar of Voters appointed by the Selectmen. In the future one member of the Board of Selectmen appointed by the chairman, who may if he wishes appoint himself, as Warden, who will be the presiding officer of state elections. In the future a person desiring to register must appear in person before the Registrar of Voters. If the person is physically unable to appear in person the Registrar may go to the person's house to register the voter. At the last meeting of the Board of Selectmen the Town Manager was appointed Registrar of Voters, he in turn appointing Phyllis Blake as Deputy Registrar.

Theodore Dunham has been hired as janitor of the Community Room assuming the duties on Sept. 16th.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

BETHEL INN TO REMAIN OPEN FOR FALL AND WINTER

In an exclusive interview with the Citizen this week, Guy P. Butler, President of Bethel Inn, Inc., announced that the well-known local hostelry will remain open for business during the 1961-1962 Fall, Winter and Spring Seasons.

The decision to keep the Inn operating during the winter for the first time in twenty years was made upon the completion of arrangements for housing and feeding of personnel of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the corporation that is building the satellite tracking station for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. at nearby Andover.

In reporting this substantial "shot in the arm" to the economy of the Bethel Area, Mr. Butler emphasized the fact that Bell Telephone is not in any sense "taking over" the Inn, and that it will be open to the general public in every respect just as it has been for many years past. An extensive advertising program is being planned to attract skeirs and winter vacationists to Bethel, and special plans will be made for the entertainment of residents of the area for family parties on Thanksgiving, Christmas and other holidays.

Mrs. Hugh Miller and Mrs. Dora Green, Brownville, have returned after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Saunders and family.

Mrs. Roy Brown, Berlin, N. H., Mrs. Clifford Miller, Rumford, and Miss Thea Hutchinson and friend, Washington, D. C., are spending a few days at the Parson camp, Songo Pond.

Three Crashes on Bethel-Gilead Road

Automobiles were damaged and several people injured, none seriously, during the past week on Route 2 between Bethel and Gilead.

Early Saturday morning an automobile driven by Mrs. John Young of Bethel left the road in Gilead and was reported a total loss. Mrs. Young suffered cuts over her left eye and bumps and bruises.

Three persons were injured and two cars damaged Sunday evening when two drivers were blinded by the sun. Drivers were reported to be Mrs. Nellie May Burt and George J. Murphy, both of Berlin, N. H. Mrs. Burt suffered bumps on the left knee and a stiff neck. Edward Murphy and Miss Georgianna Vaillancourt, passengers in the Murphy car, were slightly injured.

A Bethel car left the road and overturned on Robertson Hill Tuesday. Gideon Maheux, headed east, was making a left turn into his driveway on the sharp curve when he noticed a car driven by Arthur F. Lincoln, Jr., of Bethel approaching from the opposite direction. Maheux reportedly stopped on the center line, and in trying to avoid a collision the other car went over the bank. Lincoln and his passengers, Jerry Freeman and Mark Bennett, all of Bethel, and William Stowell of West Bethel, were not injured. The car, owned by Charles Freeman of Bethel, received damage estimated at $300.

Rumford Hospital Seeking $500,000

The memorial gifts and corporations committees for Rumford Community Hospital's $500,000 building fund began an intensive program of activity this week following the official opening last Thursday of the area-wide campaign to help finance expansion and modernization of the hospital.

Paul C. Thurston of Bethel, memorial gifts committee member, said enlistment of this group is expected to be completed within a few days. Initial approaches have already been made, he added, and announcements of subscriptions are anticipated shortly.

Thomas L. Dickson, president of T. L. Dickson, Inc., a lumber and timberlands firm, is chairman of the corporations committee. The memorial gifts committee is headed by Rand N. Stowell of Dixfield. A lifelong resident of this region, he is president of Timberlands, Incorporated, a logging and lumbering firm.

Memorial opportunities ranging cost from $1,200 to $180,000, are available both in areas to be reconstructed in the present hospital and in the new wing, Mr. Thurston said. Some examples include an individual crib in the children's department, $1,200; admitting office, $2,400; two-bed room, $3,600; recovery room, $7,200; lobby and waiting room, $9,500; central sterile supply department, $12,000; emergency department, $19,200; laboratory department, $25,800; x-ray department; and the surgical department, $87,600.

Charles L. Ferguson, chairman of the building fund, presided at last Thursday's meeting when detailed plans of the proposed building program at the hospital were described for more than 200 members of the "hospital family" and representative citizens from Andover, Bethel, Canton, Dixfield, Hanover, Mexico, Peru, Roxbury, Rumford and Weld.

The project calls for construction of a new wing and extensive reconstruction in the existing building, with total cost estimated at $1,077,000. A substantial Federal grant is anticipated.

The Van Tel. and Tel. Co. has completed this week, under supervision of Walter Tikander, Plant Superintendent, the revision of the cable plant in preparation for the new road at Railroad and Church Streets intersection. This job has also doubled the cable capacity for town, toll and rural telephone service, a preparatory step for future expansion.

Gould Opens with Lyondon Saturday

Gould Academy, minus 16 of last year's lettermen, is building around the 10 remaining lettermen and a stronger than usual nucleus from the best J. V. team the Huskies have had in years.

The probable starting lineup will find a letterman in every position except the fullback spot. They are: ends—Jim Weston and Paul Hamilton; tackles—Harry Brown and Dave Hawkes; guards—Em Merrill and Brian Scothorne; center — Gary Hill; quarterback, Capt. Scott Cummings; halfbacks—Owen Melville and Steve Parent; and at fullback will be either Steve Saunders or Frank Emery.

Others who will see considerable action and perhaps gain defensive berths are: ends, Paul Imhof, Pete Swift, Gregg Glines; tackles, Dale Stevens, John Young, Kevin Wight, Dwight Mills, Steve Twitchell; guards, Sam Bartholomew, Harry Kimball; center, Bob Amrein; quarterback, Jim Corriveau and Brian McCrodden; halfbacks, Bill Jordan, Jay Langley, Steve Groves, Don Young; fullback, Don Bachelder, Alan Chapman.

The remaining boys will be playing J. V. ball. They are: Greg Howe, Arthur Hammond, Bruce Taylor, Jim Davis, Allan Twitchell, Ron Smiley, Charles Runnels, Steve Bean, Paul Vachon, Randy Chretien, Phil Burns, Jack Andrews, Bud Carver, Dennis Wheeler, Rolfe Foxwell, Eldon Bartlett, Alan Swan, and Alan Burgess. The head manager is Clifton Jackson assisted by Jeff Lord and Raymond Hathaway.

The team appears to have a rugged line with the strongest spots at tackle and guard. The backfield is light with the reserve strength very thin. Injuries to starting backs could prove costly.

The opening game with Lyndon Institute at Gould presents an interesting angle. Each team has lost to its rival as a visitor. Gould has never lost to the Vermonters at Bethel and never won at Lyndon. After a two year lapse because of scheduling difficulties, it will be interesting to see if the pattern is going to be resumed. The game is scheduled to start at 2:00 p. m. Saturday on Alumni Field.

The remaining schedule is as follows:

Sept. 30 at Bridgton
Oct. 7 Oxford Hills (Parents' Day)
Oct. 14 at Mexico
Oct. 21 at Kennebunk
Oct. 28 Lisbon
Nov. 4 at Fryeburg

Cross-Country Team Opens At Fryeburg Sept. 28

The Gould Academy Cross Country team under Coach Frank Vogt has been working for two weeks in preparation for the 1961 season. Four lettermen, Capt. Ed. Tibbetts, Fred Judkins, Al Ring, and Dan Grover will form a strong nucleus from which to build. Eleven others are working out daily to help fill the vacancies left by last year's graduation. They are Steve Dock, Ralph Jackson, Larry Jacobs, Tony Chapman, Bob Swain, Clarence Remington, Tim Brooks, Paul Knight, Trafton Foster, Eric Paul and Richard Hawkes.

Last year the Huskies had a 4-1 record in regular competition and finished third in the state meet. This makes a tough mark to better, but that is the goal they have set for 1961.

Roy Weymouth and Jon Stowell are the managers

The season's schedule will be:

Thurs., Sept. 28, at Fryeburg
Tues., Oct. 3, Mexico and Bridgton.
Tues., Oct. 10, at Portland

Tues., Oct. 24, Hebron

DANCE DEVELOPS SOCIAL GROWTH

As children master new dance skills (whether technical or creative) they develop the self-confidence that comes from knowing how to do something well. They get a wonderful sense of accomplishment from meeting new challenges successfully, and are eager to jump the next hurdle. I have sometimes given a good class a technique that I suspected might be a little too hard for them but exciting to do. They are usually flattered at the confidence, work hard at, and are enormously gratified when they finally master it. I mention this because, aware as we are of all the pressures today's children are subject to, we sometimes hesitate to add any more. However, my own experience leads me to believe that when we know what we can reasonably expect from children, they welcome the expectation that they work to their fullest capacity.

Because the study of dance is nearly always done in a class, it becomes a social as well as artistic experience. The fact that no two bodies can occupy the same space at the same time, makes it necessary for children to be at least sufficiently aware of others in the group to avoid collisions. Further, the simple act of moving together rhythmically creates a certain amount of group cohesiveness.

Children also learn a great deal about giving and taking constructive criticism in a dance class. This takes firm guidance on the part of the teacher, since children are sometimes much rougher on each other than the most demanding teacher. As the relationships improve, so do the quality of the dances: and as the dances improve, the shared feeling of accomplishments cements the group feeling.

This also points up a great deal of mental growth. Because dance is both a disciplined and creative activity, the entire process—learning new skills, exploring new materials, and solving dance problems—stimulates the full use of a child's mental capacities. There is scope for independent thinking and encouragement of the willingness to risk making a mistake that is essential to all creative activity.

As gratifying as it is to see children grow in so many ways as a result of their dance experience there are also "fringe benefits." For those few for whom the dance will be a career, this is a healthy introduction. But a fundamental goal of this approach to teaching dance is the development of an informed, appreciative dance audience. For as we discover dance, truly we discover ourselves and the world in a rich and meaningful way.

FIRST OF SERIES OF ARTICLES REGARDING DENTAL HEALTH COMM.

On April 11, the Dental Health Committee met for the first time. This was much smaller than the present committee, which is still growing. This first meeting was called by Mrs. Dexter Stowell, president of Bethel Health and Service Council. The following Council officers were able to be present: Mrs. Avery Angevine, secretary, Mrs. Norman Dock, trustee; Mrs. Samuel Timberlake, program chairman; and Dr. John Trimward.

It was reported that some earlier efforts had been made to cooperate with outside groups to staff and finance a dental clinic. The results were studied and the decision was made that this area Council should attempt to start on its own. It should do the most possible with whatever amount of money the council would appropriate for it. It was felt that this money would be more effective if used to promote a program for healthy teeth rather than be used only for restoration, or treatment, of diseased teeth.

After outlining a possible program of activity, the Committee, under its appointed chairman, Mrs. Timberlake, contacted the Division of Dental Health of the State Department of Health and Welfare. This department has since been most cooperative with the local group in offering advice, and such services as are in its power.

These services are largely educational in intent, since it is felt that health is obtainable only by people wanting it, and developing the knowledge of how to get it in their daily habits. In areas like our own, this department finds such an educational opportunity in the process of conducting a dental health survey such as will be done here in October. During the survey, the hygienist talks to the children individually to help each in his understanding of what he can do to help himself. (to be continued)
